Srirangapatna

Many tales of valour and glory are tucked into the folds of the unassuming island town of Srirangapatna, former capital of one of the bravest sons of Karnataka - Tipu Sultan. The lanes between the turfed outline of the Srirangapatna Fort bear touching memorials to the life of this unique king. But if you're not too keen on going historical on a weekend and need other diversions, Srirangapatna won't let you down. The drive itself, past the golden rocks on which Sholay was shot and through the paddy fields of Mandya, is rewarding in itself.

Location:

127 km South West from Bangalore. Route: SH17 to Srirangapatna via Maddur and Mandya.

Activities:

Srirangapatna is set within and around the ruins of Tipu Sultan's fort, which encompasses most of what lies on the north bank. Sight Seeing: Jame Masjid, Sri Ranganathaswamy Temple, Captain Bailey's Dungeon, The Obelisk, Dariya Daulat Baug, Gumbaz, Sangama, Dodda Ghosai Ghat, Pandavapura, Karighatta.

Accomodation:

Srirangapatna offers good options, most of them by the river.
